Public consultation: We will be consulting on proposals for a six week period from 20th April 2026 to midnight 31st May 2026.

This consultation aims to seek your views on proposals for term time patterns in Leicestershire for the following proposed School term and holiday dates (from Autumn 2027 to Summer 2032).

Why does Leicestershire County Council get involved with this?

School term and holiday dates are determined by school employers. As Leicestershire County Council is the employer for community, voluntary-controlled, and community special schools in Leicestershire, it determines the term dates for these settings. Following the Deregulation Act 2015 academies have the power to set their own term time dates.

Leicestershire County Council's school term dates are currently set until the end of the 2026-27 academic year.

Do all community, voluntary-controlled, and community special schools in Leicestershire have to adopt the school term & holiday dates set by Leicestershire County Council?

In principle yes, but there is some flexibility to allow schools to amend term time patterns in-line with academies that have moved away from our patterns. In Leicestershire several secondary academies have partially moved away from our model. This can result in siblings in different schools having different term time patterns which causes difficulties with organising care arrangements and planning time off together as a family.

With this in mind, Leicestershire County Council has a recommended process that allows community schools to amend their term time patterns to fall in-line with the local secondary academy. The community school must request permission from Leicestershire County Council's Director of Children and Families to amend their term patterns to align with the local academy's.

Who determines the INSET days?

INSET (In-Service Education and Training) days are now responsibility of the Headteacher to set. Leicestershire County Council no longer proposes or sets these days. The term time patterns we are consulting on allow for 190 school days each year, however headteachers may choose to set inset days during the school year which would impact the individual term date pattern for their school.

What is Leicestershire's current school term pattern?

Traditionally, Leicestershire has always had a different school term pattern compared to surrounding areas and most other parts of the country. Compared to other areas, Leicestershire currently has:

- An early autumn break (autumn half term holiday)
- An early spring break (spring half term holiday)
- An early start to the summer holidays that follows the so-called traditional 'industrial July fortnight' pattern (where the summer break includes the last two working weeks of July)

Why consult?

To ensure schools and parents have sufficient notice about future school term dates, we now need to consult on term time patterns for the following five academic years (from Autumn 2027 to Summer 2032).

Previous consultations that included opportunities to align school terms with surrounding areas have confirmed Leicestershire's unique pattern is popular with the majority of parents. The pattern can however also cause issues for some parents and teachers, in particular when children in a single family attend schools with different term patterns or where teachers work at schools with different term patterns than those of the school attended by their children.

Leicestershire County Council therefore wants to consult parents, teachers and local residents on their preference: Should we maintain the current historic pattern of school term dates? Or align our school terms with other patterns in the region?

Working in partnership with us, Leicester City Council will also be running a consultation on the City term patterns using a very similar set of dates. This collaboration aims to improve outcomes for all those affected by the school term dates in the area and will seek to align dates across both Council areas where possible. The City Council does propose inset days as part of their term date pattern and in some cases these may not entirely align with the decisions taken by individual headteachers in Leicestershire on the timing of inset days.

The options in more detail

We have developed three different term time proposals for 2027 – 2032 that we welcome your feedback on. These three different proposals attempt to meet the range of different needs in the county. These needs include trying to reduce term time holidays by having early breaks and balancing the length of terms to try to reduce staff and student sickness. Overall, we aim to improve outcomes for Leicestershire children.

The three options proposed in this consultation are all based on the following key principles and aims.

Principles:

- The requirement to have 380 sessions (190 school days) during a school year;
- To ensure school holidays take into consideration Christian religious dates to allow families to observe religious occasions such as Christmas and Easter;
- Where possible, national bank holidays have been incorporated into school holidays;
- Where possible to try and aim for a summer break of more than a minimum of four weeks;
- To offer at least two options, that offer a two-week autumn half term to allow for a shorter autumn term;
- To offer one historic option.

Aims:

- To offer a range of Autumn half-term options;
- To offer options that provide a more balanced term length throughout the year compared to the current pattern;
- To offer a range of Summer break options;
- To consider Leicestershire term times alongside neighbouring local authorities.

Leicestershire preferred option is Proposal 1.

The key differences between the three options are:

Proposal 1 (Leicestershire's preferred option)

- An annual fixed autumn term start day (i.e. Wednesday before the August Bank holiday)
- A two-week Autumn half-term to reduce the length of such a long term
- Where possible to balance the Easter break between spring term and the summer term, meaning the Easter bank holiday may sometimes fall at the beginning or end of the 2 week Easter break rather than traditionally falling on the middle weekend
- An early start to the summer break (at least 1 week earlier than neighbouring areas)

Proposal 2

- An annual fixed autumn term start day (i.e. Tuesday after the August Bank holiday)
- A two-week Autumn half-term to reduce the length of such a long term
- Where possible to balance the Easter break between spring term and the summer term, meaning the Easter bank holiday may sometimes fall at the beginning or end of the 2 week Easter break rather than traditionally falling on the middle weekend
- A later start to the summer break

Proposal 3

- An annual fixed autumn term start day (i.e. Wednesday before the August Bank holiday)
- To continue with a one-week Autumn half-term
- Where possible to balance the Easter break between spring term and the summer term, meaning the Easter bank holiday may sometimes fall at the beginning or end of the 2 week Easter break rather than traditionally falling on the middle weekend
- To continue with a very early summer break

	PROS	CONS
Proposal 1	• Historic annual autumn start • Two-week autumn half term break • Shorter autumn term • All terms are more balanced across the whole year	• Slightly later start to the summer break
Proposal 2	• Slightly later autumn start • Two-week autumn half term break • Shorter autumn term • All terms are more balanced across the whole year	• Later start to the summer break
Proposal 3	• Historic annual autumn start • Very early start to summer break • All terms are more balanced across the whole year	• Only one-week autumn half term break • Longer autumn term
