

What does a Social Worker do?

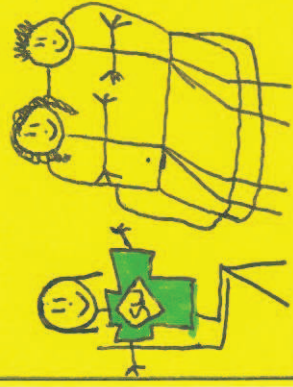

When people are worried about a child or family a social worker tries to help

They will visit you at home or at school.

Talk to people like doctors and teachers.

Talk to your parents and family.

When we try and help families we ask:

What are we worried about?

Whats working well?

What needs to happen/change?

If things don't change and get better, social workers help make hard decisions like if you are still ok to be living in one same home, or somewhere else

The most important thing is what you think and what you want to say.

My name is Hollie Mitchell and I am your social worker
Tel. 0116 3054400 / 07534284074

This page is intentionally left blank